Description: This course is meant for the professionals who wish to get introduced to Six Sigma. This is the most basic course available in Six Sigma. This course would prepare the professionals in getting an overview of the concepts of Six Sigma and prepare them to take up other courses

Mode of training: The training for this course is conducted in eight modules. The study material for one module consists of PPT prepared in accordance with the course requirements of American society of Quality. The PPTs have been prepared by the team in technical collaboration with ASQ. Once the trainee goes through the PPT for one module, he/ she would be required to contact the Master Black Belt for any doubts/ clarification required for the training carried out so far. These interactive sessions would be carried out through e-mails, chats and mobile conversations. Only when the trainee gets convinced that he/she has understood the concepts of one module, the study material of the next module shall be sent.

Examination: Examination for the certification is also carried out at the place of the trainee. Self executable file is sent to the trainee as and when he/ she is ready to give the examination. This file can be run only once. As soon as the file is run, the count-down would automatically start. The examination would automatically stop once the time limit expires. The examination would be totally objective. The questions would be asked from the theory taught during the training sessions.

Certification: The certificate given at the end of the training mentions that the certifying agency (GA Services Pvt. Ltd.) is an Associate Member of American Society of Quality. GA Services Pvt. Ltd. is one of the few companies in India who are associated with ASQ.

Normal time duration: If this course is taken up in online mode, then it requires 30 Man hours to complete the course. Normally the people complete this course in fifteen days (i.e. devoting 2 hours daily for the course). Once you enrol for this course, your membership would be valid for a period of three months. This gives you flexibility in the time required by you to complete the course. The time limit may be extended on the payment of a small penalty.
